Portfolio Review

Key Contributors

- Global Equities were the top contributor, largely driven by a fall in AUD and strong Q2 earnings in the US and Europe.
- Materials were the best performing sector within Australian equites over July supported by gains in base metal prices. By contrast, information Technology and Energy were the key laggards.
- Fixed Income's return of 0.9% was driven by outperformance in government bonds with yields falling by as much as 35bps over the month of July.

Key Detractors

 Cash was the key detractor producing almost nil return over the month due to the low official cash rate of 0.1%.

Market Highlights

- ◆ Australian equities (S&P/ASX100) returned 1.2% over July largely ignoring rising cases of the Delta variant and increasing community restrictions.
- ◆ We saw an increase in corporate activity underpinned by low interest rates and strong balance sheets. The banking and resources sectors are poised to return excess cash to shareholders. Merger and acquisition activity remain robust among utilities and industrial sectors.
- Global Equities (MSCI World ex-Australia $A Unhedged) outperformed Australian equities, rising by 4.0% driven by a fall in AUD by 2% and strong earnings season.
- ◆ Government bond yields declined to a 6-month low, with the 10 Year bond yield falling below 1.2%. This was due to concerns over the increasing spread of Covid-19 Delta variant and some signs of global growth moderating driving investors to shift toward safer investments.

^{*}Objective is CPI + 3% p.a. rolling 3 & 5 years

Portfolio Review

Key Contributors

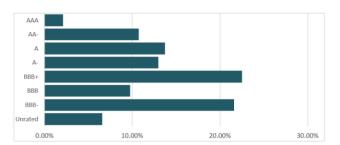

- Floating rate credit was a positive contributor over the month of July returning 0.15%. This was driven by demand for securities that provided a return in excess to the low cash rate and the absence of new issuances.
- An increased exposure to hybrids including the new ANZPI contributed around 9bps to the overall Trust return.

Key Detractors

 Cash was the key detractor producing almost nil return over the month due to the low official cash rate of 0.1%.

Market Highlights

- ◆ A more subdued growth outlook following the Delta' variant outbreaks and domestic lockdowns did not appear to weigh on investor sentiment in credit markets.
- ◆Exposure to Floating Rate Credit contributed to performance as spreads tightened by 3 bps.
- ◆ Money market rates continued to remain very low with the RBA's decision to maintain the cash rate target of 0.10%. Three-month bank bills closed the month lower trading at 0.02%.
- ◆ After a strong return in June, the hybrids market was subdued in July with spreads ending the month around 12bps lower from the previous month.

^{*}Objective is AusBond Bank Bill + 1.0% (net of fees) p.a. rolling 3 years
